Mattapoisett at the legion hall on Depot Street Sunday as they celebrated the 40th anniversary of the Post.

The Rev. John Sullivan of St. Anthony's Church started the evening with a prayer. Mr. John Raphael introduced the following guests at the head table to the legion members: Raymond Lema New Bedford veteran's agent; Rev. Sullivan, Frederick Monson, Mr. George White, Selectman of Mattapoisett, and Mr. Harold Banks. All spoke briefly as they expressed their pleasure and best wishes. Mr. White asked the group to consider reactivation of the Veterans' Memorial Park Committee and also to consider the formation of a committee to honor Korean War Veterans.

Mr. Banks awarded citations and pins to the following members of 40-years standing: Joseph Furtado, Ernest Dexter, Nelson Tinkham, Anthony DeCosta, Mrs. DeCosta, Manuel Roza, and Charles B. Dunn accepted for his father, the late Ralph C. Dunn. Mr. Dunn thanked the Legion for the honor and also expressed deep appreciation of the many acts of kindness received by the family of Ralph Dunn following his death. Forty-five year citations were presented to Grace Pengilly, William Cory, Philip LeBaron and Earle D. Wilson.

Mr. George S. White presented a merit award from the Post to Matthew Costa for his outstanding work in their behalf. Mrs. Evelyn Pursley

CONGRATULATIONS AMERICAN LEGIONNAIRES

We would like to extend our heartiest good wishes to all of the Legion Posts in our area on the anniversary of the American Legion. The Legion has always personified the highest ideals of patriotism and service to the community and the nation. May these years serve as a reminder to the nation and the world that our strength is in our individual who can unite with his fellows to serve a common cause of justice and freedom. It's a proud heritage.

was thanked by John Raphael for the beautiful decorated cake which she made for the occasion. She cut the cake for the guests.

Mr. John R. Parker, principal speaker, recalled the formation of the American Legion which was organized after World War I to honor those who gave their lives and to promote care for those who gave their health for their country. He pointed out that every Legion Post displays the preamble to the Constitution, and that every Legion member is dedicated to the service of God and country. He contrasted these high moral values to the materialism that is increasingly evident around us. He spoke of the Legion efforts on behalf of widowed wives and children and veterans in hospitals and those discharged from hospitals with no place to go. Mr. Parker said that the Legion favors economy in all departments of government but that economies that eliminate necessary veterans' services are false and must be opposed by members who should

He stated that there are 80,000 members in Massachusetts, who, if they would donate one hour per year to visiting aging veterans in hospitals could do enormous good. Many of these men have no living friends or families, he said.

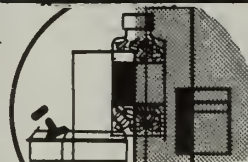

He called for members to invite all war time veterans to join the Legion, for, he said, the Post needs them and that small town Posts have great influence for good and community service.

After Mr. Parker concluded, Mr. Manuel Roza showed colored slides of the New York World's Fair.

PASTOR AND FAMILY HONORED

Between 350 and 400 persons gathered at the Congregational Church parish hall in Mattapoisett on Sunday evening to honor the Rev. Frederick Reynard, Mrs. Reynard and their daughter, Susan, and son, Alan. The occasion was the 10th anniversary of Mr. Reynard's ministry at this church. The occasion came as a surprise to the Reynards after well kept secret preparations.

Mr. Anthony Pelson read a history of the church and its many changes during the past decade. His theme was "This is Your Life". Mr. William Matthews showed slides to illustrate the changes, showing the original church and scenes

During the history, it was stated that 150 children have been baptised in the last 10 years and 15 children of that group were recognized from the audience. In the same period, there have been 50 weddings and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker, the first couple married after Mr. Reynard's arrival, stood up to offer their good wishes.

Mr. Linwood Lewis then presented gifts from the congregation to the Reynards. The gifts included a slide projector, a Brownie 800 camera, a projection screen, a stereo tape recorder complete with tapes, leather cases and accessories, and a gift of money in the form of a check.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynard opened the gifts together. All of the gifts were intended to be useful for the trip that the Reynards plan for this Summer. After the gifts were opened, Mr. Reynard made a speech of thanks to the gathering, and then his wife, Gladys, also spoke to express

EXPRESSION OF THANKS

We wish to thank the many friends in the church and community for the surprise party and gifts presented to us on Sunday evening. We are grateful for this expression of esteem and support. Frederick and Gladys Reynard.

BRIGHT CAST DOES CAROUSEL

Kathy Shaaf, playing the lead role of Julie Jordan in the Old Rochester production of "Carousel", displayed a talented voice in her first role in a musical comedy. Kathy's rich, full singing provided a polished production with an excellence that is rare in an amateur production. Carousel, apparently, was written for trained voices of extreme range. To meet this challenge with colors flying deserves the highest praise. The only disappointment was that Kathy's role was stingy with opportunity, giving her only two solos. We were eager for more.

Playing opposite Kathy, Anthony Walker did a remarkable job as Billy Bigelow. Anthony had only two weeks to learn and polish his part which is very difficult. The production revolves on the axis of this brash, shallow, central character. Because the plot has as much substance as a basket full of moonbeams, Anthony's portrayal was vital in making a foundation for the action. He was letter perfect with the part including the lengthy soliloquy which is a test for any actor.

Although his singing voice didn't quite cover the entire 2 or 3 octaves that the part calls for, he did a very creditable job in that department.

Wendi Hayes, who has appeared in Pajama Game and Oklahoma!, always gives a fine performance. As a central character, she shares the spotlight as a best friend of the leading lady. Wendi has a very pleasing singing voice and, once again, the vehicle left us waiting in vain since her numbers were in the first act and ceased too soon. Playing opposite Wendi, Kenneth Mosakowski gave the action its humor and lift as the upright Mr. Snow. Kenneth had his character well developed. It was a chuckle type of role which was well done. Also, taking care of the laugh department was bouncy Mary Lee DeCoffe in a part full of zest. Mary's big number was "June Is Bustin' Out All Over" and she played it gay and warm.

Mr. five o'clock shadow, Roger Nolan, properly menaced the whole production in the sinister part of Jigger Craigh. As one of the key figures, Roger lurked good. It was an audience pleasing acting job. Laureeann Empey, as the Karen Ramos, chairman of the Home and Community Service Committee, reported on a committee meeting with Mrs. Mary Messier, assistant matron, to plan on the project work. She urged the Juniors to bring in cancelled stamps and pieces of clean cloth to be taken to an animal hospital.

The cancelled stamps are to be cut with at least a quarter of an inch of the envelope for margin. Robert Ouellette was guest of honor representing Sippican Pomona.

Lecturer, Joseph Alves presented Mrs. Joseph Perry, R.N. and District Nurse, who gave an interesting talk on Good Health. She emphasized cleanliness of the body as a conqueror of prevailing germs. A question period followed, showing the interest and impression of Mrs. Perry's talk to the Juniors.

A "practice race" followed with three groups of 3 taking part in pushing potatoes with the end of a pencil to a goal at the opposite end of the room. Winners were Betty Jo Gregg, Joseph Alves and Michael Allain. The story of Saint Patrick's Day was read by Past master, Doris Fearing. Ending with, according to tradition, the shamrock with its single stem and triple leaf was his favorite method of explaining the Trinity the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost.

At the close of the lecturer's program the lecturer's march was held with Mark Breton receiving the prize.

Refreshments were served by John and Joseph Alves. Served were cookies, brownies and punch.

The next meeting, March 26th, will be a Record Hop with Dorothy and Jane Wheeler refreshment chairmen.

DR. AVERY TO SPEAK ON WATER

On Monday, March 22, at 2:00 P.M. at the Y.W.C.A., 66 Spring Street, New Bedford, Dr. Eunice H. Avery will talk on the subject "Water Tests the World."

Dr. Avery, a world traveler and news analyst, planned, on her 1964 trip, to visit countries that were increasing or making increased use of water resources. It was the year Egypt completed the first stage of the Aswan Dam and she saw the progress there and Egypt's hydroelectric programs. She also saw the Algerian land development program under the direction of Mr. Wickline of South Carolina. She has seen the new ways born of new river uses in Kenya and in our own Southwest.
